

PAN-PACIFIC DEBATE TEAM LEAVING TUES.

University Is First to Start Inter-racial Tour

TO GO TO MANILA

Trio Will Represent Territory as Well as U. of H.

Walter Mihata, Stowell Wright, and Ah Ho Chun, the three members of the University of Hawaii Pan-Pacific debating team, will leave for the Orient on the Tenyo Maru sailing Tuesday afternoon, May 15. The trio will go direct to Tokyo, where their first contest is to be held.

As far as available records show, the University of Hawaii is the first to send an inter-racial team on a tour of foreign countries. Teams from Oxford, the University of Oregon, Australia, and other colleges have made tours of foreign countries, staging debates with colleges and universities on their way. But never before has a team composed of members of three different races made a tour the main purpose of which is to promote inter-racial harmony. So far as is known, the three members of the University of Hawaii Pan-Pacific team have the distinction of being pioneers in their coming undertaking.

To the Pan-Pacific club of the University of Hawaii, and those who are backing this club belongs much of the credit for conceiving of this trip and carrying the idea to its fruition. This club guaranteed the expenses of the trip, and its officers and advisors have been instrumental in making the plans and raising the funds necessary. The selecting of the three to make the team was left to the Hawaii Union, honorary forensic society of the University, which held open competition in which over 35 contestants took part, and from which Walter Mihata, representing the Japanese, Stowell Wright, representing the Caucasian, and Ah Ho Chun, representing the Chinese, were chosen.

These three have been working industriously preparing for the coming trip. They are going as representatives of the entire territory as well

Senior Women Are Guests At Dinner Given By Adelphai

"A very good dinner and a clever program" was the unanimous decision given by the senior women who were the honored guests at the Adelphai dinner given last Tuesday at the Honolulu Chop Suey House.

The table decorations were carried out, green and white. The honorees, Mrs. David L. Crawford, Mrs. Arthur L. Andrews, Mrs. Arthur L. Keller, Mrs. Arthur L. Dean, and Mrs. Dora Lewis were presented with corsages of white gardenias and green maiden-hair ferns. Dainty Chinese place cards marked places for the 50 guests who were present at the last social function sponsored by the Adelphai Club this year.

Miss Lillian Abe, acting as toast-mistress, gave an address of aloha to the senior women which also welcomed the honored guests. Miss Gladys Li, Miss Helen Chun, and Miss Beatrice Lee gave a delightful Chinese song and dance and a clever recitation was made by little Goldie Li, Miss Li's sister. A feature of the program was the songs which the underclasswomen sang during the dinner, requesting that the seniors do as the words commanded.

As a climax to the evening's entertainment, Miss Winifred Webster and Miss Ruth Robbins as two "Darkies" impersonating the popular "Two Black Crows," elicited much laughter when they prophesied as to the future fates of the senior women. Dignified positions as university professors to the not much less dignified but very busy housewives were some of the destinies given to the honorees. There were also several famous actresses, nurses, dietitians, and even a doctor who will some day make a fortune in the world.

Tomorrow Big Day for R.O.T.C.

Governor and Other High Officials to Review Cadets

Tomorrow afternoon starting at 1:15 o'clock, the annual R. O. T. C. tournament will be held on the campus.

Governor Wallace R. Farrington, Major General Fox Conner, Commander of the Hawaiian department, and many notables will review the officers and cadets of the University regiment of the Reserve Officers Training Corps. Sponsors of the various companies and the regimental sponsor will be there to award marksmanship medals and to participate in the parade.

Intercompany competitions in pick-a-back race, tug-o-war, combat problems, and individual competitions in the best soldier contest will be the features of the day.

A large, bright silver trophy has been donated to the University by the Dawkins, Benny company for the precision drill competition. The various companies will perform as war strength platoons in the precision drill.

U. H. Y. Officers Will Be Elected Next Wednesday

Westgate and Sato Up For Leaders of Organization

Election of officers of the University Y. M. C. A. will be held next Wednesday, May 16, at the general meeting of the Y members at Central Y. M. C. A. It has been customary for the past several years to hold a general meeting of all the members toward the end of the year together with a dinner to discuss various activities of the organization.

The nominations of the officers were made by the Y. M. C. A. cabinet which is headed by Q. L. Ching, a member of the senior class. Francis Sato who has been very active in Y work and Philip Westgate were nominated to head the organization next year. Others who were nominated were: for vice-president, Kenneth Chun, Kiyoto Tsubaki, K. F. Chong; for recorder, Don McKinney; for treasurer, Charles Kenn, and C. Penhallow. Besides these officers the cabinet members will also be chosen.

According to Lowell Mell, Y secretary, this year has been very successful in spite of the handicap met at the beginning of the year. Although this is his first year, several important projects were promoted with success, as the seventh annual students' conference, sending of the Asilomar delegations, and several conferences between the student leaders and members of the faculty. Mr. Mell appreciates the friendly and cooperative attitude of the students who have shown interest in Y activities.

Mr. Mell is especially pleased with the good work done by the present members of the cabinet. The retiring officers are: Q. L. Ching, president, Shiku Ogura, vice-president, Masao Yamada, recorder, and Earl Nishimura, treasurer.

Senior Week Plans Are Announced

The senior class held a meeting last week to decide the usually confronting problems of this time of the year.

Hung Wai Ching, the president, announced the plans for senior week. Class day will be held on May 31. In the afternoon the seniors will hold a meeting in Hawaii Hall; a senior supper will follow this at the Cafeteria; and when Class Night comes, after the dinner is over, the class history and prophecy will be read. Only seniors will be allowed to be present in the afternoon and at the supper, but at Class Night the fellow-students and friends of the seniors will be welcomed.

On June 1, the alumni and juniors will entertain the seniors at a banquet and dance.

The baccalaureate sermon will be held at Kawaiahao Church on June 3. Commencement exercises will be held on June 4.

Executive Group Officers Will Be Chosen Tomorrow

Ten Nominations Made—Four Students to Be Picked

At a meeting of the Executive Committee recently, nominations for the members of next year's Executive Committee were made. The election will be held tomorrow from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The Executive Committee at present is composed of the President of the A. S. U. H., ex officio, four student members, and one faculty member. Edward Towse will be a member of next year's Executive Committee. Professor Thayne M. Livesey will again be on the Committee for he is the only faculty member to be nominated for the position.

Four students are to be elected from the ten nominees submitted by the Executive Committee. The nominees are: John Devereux, Joseph Gerdes, Alfred Giles, Moku Gittel, Gertrude Kadota, Kam Tai Lee, Earl Nishimura, Percy Smith, Richard Weight, and Philip Westgate.

Winners Make U. Debate Team

Protection of Capital Is Question Of Discussion

Shigeo Yoshida, a sophomore, and Quan Lun Ching, a senior, first and second prize winners of the sixth annual Berndt contest in extemporaneous speaking together with Mitsuyuki Kido will make up the University of Hawaii debate team which will meet Bates college team June 1, at Mission Memorial hall. Ah Leong Fong, who was given honorable mention in the Berndt contest, is the alternate.

The question for debate will be, "Resolved that this house deprecates the policy of protecting capital invested in foreign countries by force of arms without a formal declaration of war." The Bates team will uphold the affirmative while the varsity trio will maintain the negative of the proposition.

Governor Wallace R. Farrington will preside at the debate. The debate will start the activities of commencement week.

The members of the Bates college team are: Merwin L. Ames, John F. Davis, and Charles H. Guphill. The team will arrive in Honolulu on May 30, Wednesday and will leave for New Zealand on June 6.

8 Poems Submitted For Quill Contest

Eight poems were submitted to the editors of the Hawaii Quill Magazine to be entered in the poetry contest sponsored by the Quill.

These were numbered by the judges, number one ranking highest. Each judge marked the manuscript without knowledge of the others. The final score follows:

"Education"—eight points.
"Lucky Spot Dance" and "Hawaii"—nine points each.
"A Land that Lives in Song Alone"—ten points.

The prize was offered by a member of Hawaii Quill. The judges were: Prof. Irving O. Pecker, Prof. Charles H. Neil, and Jane Comstock Clarke. "Education" and "Lucky Spot Dance" were written by Miss Kathryn MacFarlane, U. H. Library; "Hawaii" and "A Land that Lives in Song Alone," by Guy Cardwell. These poems will appear in the next issue of Hawaii Quill Magazine.

Alumni Magazine Is Off the Press

The Alumni Magazine of the Alumni Association of the University of Hawaii came off the press and was distributed on May 10, it was announced by Alumni officials.

The magazine contains news of the alumni, a directory of graduates with name, class, and residence, news of the professors, their plans for the summer, and general news regarding the university.

Yoshida, Ching Win Contest

Prizes Will Be Given At Commencement Exercises

Speaking on the topic "Should the League of Nations assume the problem of Nicaraguan stabilization?" in the finals of the sixth annual Berndt extemporaneous contest last Friday evening at the Mission Memorial hall, Shigeo Yoshida was awarded the first prize of $75. Quan Lun Ching was given the second prize of $25. These cash prizes will be awarded on commencement day according to President David L. Crawford who presided at the contest that evening.

"My answer to this question is emphatically no! It is our own affair. The United States proclaimed the Monroe Doctrine upon her own authority, therefore the United States has a great responsibility and obligation toward the rest of the world. We cannot leave it up to the League of Nations, it is our own affair. The domestic affairs of Nicaragua are our own affairs," said Yoshida.

THE JUDGES

Judges of the contest were Senator Lawrence Judd, Wade Warren Thayer, and Judge William Heen. These judges thought it wise to split the hundred dollars between the two outstanding speakers, so the winners were given $25 and $75.

Yoshida is a Hilo high school graduate of 1926. As representative of Hilo high school to the annual prohibition oratorical contest, he took third prize. In his senior year he captained the high school debating team in the Hawaii-Maui debates. He was also editor of the "Blue and Gold," year book of the school.

Last year Yoshida was on the freshman championship debate team. He debated against the University of Oregon team who passed through here last year on the round the world tour. He was admitted into Hawaii Union last year. Yoshida is managing editor of the Ka Palapala.

CHING, SECOND PRIZE WINNER

Quan Lun Ching, second prize winner, is a graduate of Mid-Pacific Institute and a senior at the University. As member of the Millsonian debating team he won the intersociety debates in his sophomore year. He took third prize in the school prohibition oratorical contest.

Ching has entered the Berndt contest for three years. He has been a member of Hawaii Union for two years and was elected president during his junior year. Last year he debated against the University of Oregon team. During his junior and senior years he has been on the student council of which he is chairman this year. He also took part in "The Yellow Jacket."

The other six students who participated in the contest were Miss Gladys Li, Joseph Gerdes, Kam Tai Lee, Leong Fong, Kameju Hayakawa, and Jack Wakayama.

Mrs. Ruth Armstrong played some beautiful pieces on the piano during the short intermissions.

The piano was loaned by Thayer Music Company and flowers were sent by the Kunikiyo Florists.

Reelection For 3 Officers Held

Because the nominees for the first and second vice presidency of the A.S.U.H. and for the secretaryship did not obtain a clear majority on the election held on April 27, Friday, a new election was held last Friday.

Miss Gertrude Kadota was elected first vice-president with a total vote of 186 to that of 119 for Miss Dorothy Anderson. For the second vice presidency, Philip Westgate polled 187 votes thereby winning that office from his rival, John Devereux, who was credited with 116 votes.

The contest for the position of secretary was the keenest one held this year. The election was carried by a majority of five votes. Miss Moku Gittel carried 149 votes and Miss Anne Moore received 154 votes thereby being elected secretary of the A.S.U.H.

An analysis of the votes cast shows that very little interest has been shown in this re-election. In the first election on April 27, nearly 500 votes were cast but at the last election only 305 votes were cast.

Juanita Lemmon Is Chosen Senior Class Day Orator

To Deliver Annual Ivy Oration On May 31

Juanita Lemmon has been recommended by the faculty and approved by the senior class to be the class orator to deliver the annual ivy oration on May 31 at 4 p. m. on the campus. Mitsuyuki Kido was offered the honor but due to the preparation necessary for the Bates debate, he was forced to refuse it.

In selecting the class orator, Scholastic ability has been taken into consideration. Miss Juanita Lemmon has at present the highest scholastic record. She has also taken an active part in dramatics. Last year the ivy oration was delivered by Shunzo Sakamaki.

Prof. C. B. Andrews Writes To Prexy; Is Now At M. I. T.

Concludes that Hawaii Has High Calibre of Instructors

In a recent letter to President David L. Crawford, Professor Carl B. Andrews of the engineering department, who has been absent on a year's sabbatical leave, states that he and Mrs. Andrews are planning to return on the Wilhelmina on August 28.

Following are excerpts taken from the interesting letter:

"The call of Hawaii is pretty strong, even among the army officers here, many of whom have been in Hawaii at some time, and practically all of whom would be glad to go back there. I am in a class with some Ordnance officers, one of whom said that Prof. Bilger coached him last year on Inorganic Chemistry enough to enable him to get the assignment to M. I. T. Clarence Loo is apparently doing very well here; Prof. Spofford remarked to me a few days ago that he was one of the good men in the junior class of the civil engineers. I see him occasionally in the halls, as also Francis Leong; I do not meet Whitney Weinrich so often, as his chemistry work is in another part of the plant. Loo is taking advanced R. O. T. C. work. He told me a while ago that he had to work to put himself through, and it was pretty hard going, but apparently he is making it all right. He may buy an auto, with the Chung boy who is at Harvard, and drive across to San Francisco in the summer, and get to Honolulu for a few weeks.

U. H. GOOD INSTITUTION

After seeing how things go here, my general impression is that the University of Hawaii is a pretty good institution. In equipment, of course we are outclassed, but in caliber of instructors, I think that we would average up pretty well. Certainly the reputation of M. I. T. is such that they must make every effort to get

Registration For Dramatic Course Closes Tomorrow

Students who are planning to take the course in play production next year should register with Miss Floralyn Cadwell before tomorrow as the class is limited to only 20 students who will be admitted according to their dramatic ability. In cases where students are of equal talent, they will be admitted according to the time in which they registered, for students who hold their personal interviews with Miss Cadwell early in the week will be admitted to the class.

Miss Cadwell, who is now instructor in English and dramatic coach at the University, will conduct this course which will be offered on Tuesday and Thursday, from 1:30-4:00. Three credits will be given.

Miss Cadwell is planning to go to the mainland this summer to visit the theatres and attend lectures on dramatics, and this will enable her to study many new ideas in dramatics.

AGGIE LUUAU IS ALL SET; FEED'S SWELL

Hula Dancing, Boxing Will Be Features Of Evening

150 TICKETS SOLD

Chalmers Promises Banquet To Be Top-Notcher

With their 150 tickets sold out and many persons clamoring for more, officials of the University Aggie Club are certain that the annual Aggie Luau will be a great success. The luau, which is to take place in the new engineering building this Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock, will be a great improvement over Aggie luau of the past, Bill Chalmers, chairman of the luau committee, firmly believes.

A number of changes have been made in the original plans for the entertainment, Chalmers says. The band will play at 6 o'clock, as was announced before, while the kaukau will commence to disappear at 6:30, the following events will be augmented by additional pugilistic bouts.

Owing to the possibility of inclement weather, the base of operations will be removed to the newly completed engineering building on the lower campus which building will amply hold the large crowd with room for more if the occasion arises.

"Brute" Johnson, university mauler, and "Tom" Heene, an unknown quantity from McKinley High School, will be added to the group of nose busters who will furnish the after-dinner entertainment. Both of these boys have had considerable experience, and should prove interesting additions. Wakatake, another varsity cauliflower specialist and trackster, will swap lefts with a "dark horse" from the chemistry department.

The hula dancers have not as yet been definitely chosen, the field having narrowed down to three girls, Miss Kay Hummel, Miss Lellehua Judd, and Miss Carrie Correl—all three of whom are among the best in Honolulu. Whoever is chosen is sure to charm her audience, in the opinion of Chalmers.

"We're all set," Chalmers said, "the pig has been selected—and it is some pig. The poi factory has promised to have the poi ready by Saturday night, and all the rest of the doo-dads are being taken care of by the staff. All we need now is Saturday night."

Hui Lokahi Dinner Is Voted Success; 60 Friends Attend

In the spacious dining room of the Oahu Country Club, amid a veritable bower of beautiful flowers, the Hui Lokahi and its guests, comprising 60 persons in all, held their annual dinner last Friday evening, according to Jack Myatt, president of the campus fraternity.

Green and gold, the colors of the club, were present in the form of crepe paper festoons from the ceiling, the decorations on the U-shaped tables, the hanging lamps, the walls, and even the floor. A big two-foot letter L, made from green ferns and golden day lilies, graced the foot of the table, while at the head of the table the words, "Hui Lokahi," were spelled out with some two hundred cut roses, the charming fragrance of which vied with that of the golden day lilies which formed the main part of the table decorations.

It was just another Lei Day, in the opinion of the club members and guests who attended the banquet. There were so many flowers in the dining room that the "overflow" was ranged around the walls in large baskets. Some dozens of roses and gladiolas were so treated.

The most enjoyable feature of the dinner, excepting, of course the delectable food served, was the fact that no after-dinner or pre-dinner speeches were made—all the talking done was most delightfully informal.

After the dinner was over, the group adjourned to the club lanai, where they took part in what was termed the most enjoyable dance of the season, along with some two hundred others who attended the dance through the courtesy of Hui Lokahi members.

Aloha Missionaries

When the Pan-Pacific debaters leave Honolulu for a three months tour of the Orient, a unique precedent will be established at the University. The University will be the first to sponsor a debating expedition with the idea to bring about better relations among the countries of the Pacific. This trip will be the forerunner of a truly Pan-Pacific tour which will include the Orient as well as Australia, New Zealand, and the Pacific coast of the United States.

The primary object of the tour is not to win debates and orations but to establish friendly contacts with the people of the Pacific and to spread the message and spirit of aloha of cosmopolitan Hawaii.

The three men chosen for this significant mission are true representatives of their respective races. They have achieved prominence in scholarship as well as in other phases of student life.

The entire University is back of this expedition. That the trio will live up to the expectations of the University and the Territory, we have every hope and confidence. Ka Leo wishes Walter Mihata, J. Stowell Wright, and Ah Ho Chun, a pleasant voyage, and hopes that they realize the noble mission which they are undertaking to perform.

Cosmo Club Board Approves Action of Mihata and Ford

At the executive committee meeting of the Pan-Pacific Cosmopolitan Club of the University of Hawaii last Monday afternoon, the members approved the actions taken by Alexander Hume Ford and Walter Mihata in collecting money for the coming debate tour of the three University students to the Orient.

The following letter to the board of managers of the club from Ford was read by Elwell Percy Lydgate, president of the organization:

"When it was announced that the University of Hawaii could not finance the sending of a debating team to the Orient this year, the director of the Pan-Pacific Union suggested to the Pan-Pacific Cosmopolitan club of the University of Hawaii that it make the proper financial guarantee and send under its auspices a Pan-Pacific team from the University of Hawaii, asking Hawaii Union to select a Japanese, a Chinese and an Anglo-Saxon from the University to make up the team.

"This offer was made with the assurance of the director of the Pan-Pacific Union that the first thousand dollars might safely be underwritten by the club.

$1000 RAISED

"The thousand dollars has practically been raised and the tickets to Manila and return will be paid for out of the guarantee and handed to the three debaters, together with a small amount in cash to be used in necessary tips on the vessel.

"Further the Pan-Pacific Union set in motion correspondence with Japan, China, the Philippines, resulting in promises of entertainment of the team in the Orient and a small cash guarantee in Japan. The bulk of the correspondence has been carried on through the corresponding secretary of the Pan-Pacific Cosmopolitan club of the University of Hawaii.

Some months ago it was suggested to the Pan-Pacific Cosmopolitan club that it put on a debate in Hawaii, between the Pan-Pacific debating team of the University of Hawaii and a town team. The secretary of the Pan-Pacific Cosmopolitan club of the University of Hawaii and the advisor of the club, got together and, representing the club, have done considerable work toward staging this event.

A. S. U. H. CONTRIBUTES

"The 250 dollar tickets given the director of the Pan-Pacific Union by the secretary of the club have been disposed of, with the understanding that the sales would go toward the purchase of the round trip steamship tickets for the team, but as it is now understood that the Hawaii student body is contributing $200.00, it would seem that all of the proceeds of the Honolulu debate might go toward incidental expenses of the team and the club might officially authorize this.

"As director of the Pan-Pacific Union I feel these facts should be communicated to the Pan-Pacific Cosmopolitan club of the University of Hawaii, to go in its minutes, together with a statement of receipts of funds solicited by the director, both for subscriptions and for tickets, stating that the cost of the round trip tickets for the three debaters to Manila and return, including war tax, is $975.00 leaving to complete the thousand dollar contribution through the Pan-Pacific Cosmopolitan club of the University of Hawaii, the sum of twenty-five dollars in cash.

"This thousand dollar fund was promised as an underwriting but is now offered as a donation with the hope that from the receipts of the debate in Hawaii and from the guarantees in the Orient, there may remain a sum that will be quite a nest egg for the Pan-Pacific Cosmopolitan club of the University of Hawaii to start a movement next year to send a second Pan-Pacific debating team from the University of Hawaii, not only to the Orient, but around the Pacific. The Pan-Pacific Union has already sounded the universities on this and they will gladly cooperate.

"At the Pan-Pacific Research Institution the Union has several times housed and entertained visiting debating teams and any invitation of this sort extended in the Orient by the Pan-Pacific debating team will be gladly honored by the Union.

THE DONORS

"The receipts from donors and ticket purchases secured by the directors of the Pan-Pacific Union for the expenses of the debating team, is as follows:

Donation from George Castle $100; Mary Castle Foundation $100; Frank C. Atherton $50; Atherton Trust $50; W. R. Castle $100; Charles Hemenway $50; Mrs. W. R. Westervelt $30; Hon. W. F. Frear $10; Pacific Trust and Bank of Hawaii $10; Dillingham Interests $50; donations for tickets from the Honolulu Star Bulletin $10; Honolulu Advertiser $10; F. C. Atherton $10; Lewers and Cooke $10; Loomis, Institute of Pacific Relations $10; C. Brewer & Co. $10; Trent Trust Company $10; Bishop Bank $10; International Trust $10; Salvation Army $10; Methodist Mission $10; Hawaiian Board of Missions $10; Y. M. B. A. $10; P. P. R. I. $10; Hawaiian Civic club $10; Japanese-Hawaiian Civic club $10; Pan-Pacific Lions club $10; Latter Day Saints $10; Hawaiian Electric $10; Alexander and Baldwin $10; G. Castle and petty cash $10; Pan-Pacific Women's club $25; Pan-Pacific club $25; W. C. T. U. $40; and Pan-Pacific Union $50; total $1,000.

Respectfully submitted,
Signed: Alexander Hume Ford

Engineers Guests At Luncheon Given in New Building

Some sixty members of the Engineers' Association of Hawaii were the guests of the University Engineers' Club at a luncheon given in the newly completed Sophomore Engineering Building last Friday, according to Jack Myatt, president of the University organization. The occasion of the luncheon was the speedy completion of the new units by the J. L. Young Engineering Company.

While the tables in the new building were being laid for the dinner by Mrs. Coxhead, manager of the University Cafeteria and her energetic staff of nine girls from Miss Carey D. Miller's Home Economic classes, the Engineers' Club took their guests on a tour of the campus, explaining the purposes and functions of the various buildings.

After the rounds had been made, the group, comprising 100 members of the two clubs, Mr. J. L. Young of the J. L. Young Engineering Company, Professor Keller and President Crawford of the University, R. D. King, of the real estate concern of King & James, and president of the Engineers' Association of Hawaii, and W. C. Furer, of the architects Furer & Potter, and secretary of the Engineers' Association entered the Sophomore Engineering Building and partook of the luncheon.

After the meal was over, Mr. King thanked the University Engineers' Club for the opportunity offered them to meet the engineering students of the University and also for the enjoyable luncheon.

MYATT WELCOMES VISITORS

He then introduced Jack Myatt, who responded with a speech in which he welcomed the visitors to the University on behalf of the organization of which he is president, and called attention to the wonderful engineering work apparent in the building in which the gathering was seated and the other units comprising the engineering buildings erected with such precision and dispatch by the J. L. Young Engineering Company. He thanked Mr. Young for making the present luncheon possible by his speedy work, and expressed the hope, shared by the University organization as a whole, that he would come into contact with members of the Honolulu Association in future meetings of a similar nature as the present and also in a business way.

President Crawford, the next speaker, also expressed much satisfaction concerning the way in which the J. L. Young Engineering Company had fulfilled their contract.

"The erection of these units marks a great forward step in the career of the University," he said. "We of the University take a just pride in progress, and for this reason we may all point to these newly constructed tokens of advancement with a rightful feeling of elation. They are, however, but stepping stones to greater achievements but important ones, all will agree.

"Mr. Young is to be sincerely congratulated for the dispatch with which his company has completed these units."

Mr. Furer, secretary of the Engineers' Association, rose and made a motion for a vote of thanks to the University Engineers' Club for the luncheon and the pretty waitresses. He also expressed the hope that the University Engineers would some day be able to attend one of their weekly luncheons held in the down town district.

These addresses concluded the meeting, and after a few more points of interest were visited by the group, the visitors left the campus after expressing the keenest enjoyment of all that had taken place during the pleasant forenoon.

Bach Topic of Kahl Lecture

Quill Meeting Devoted to Music; Lecture, Selections Heard

Professor Erich Kahl was the speaker of the evening and afterward the musical entertainer at the last meeting of Hawaii Quill, held Monday evening at the Lutheran Church Parish Hall on Beretania Street, through the kindness of Pastor and Mrs. Hermann of the Lutheran Church.

Professor Kahl addressed the club on the subject of Bach, the great German music composer. First, however, to acquaint the club members with the type of music he intended to discuss, Professor Kahl described the progress of music from the times of the Greeks, illustrating very aptly the various stages of progress by bars on the piano.

To top the primary lecture, Professor Kahl played "Aloha Oe" in the various ways it would have been played at the different times in history and the illustration was considered by those present a musical education in itself.

To sketch briefly the history of Bach, as delivered by the professor:

TELLS STORY

"Bach, the great German composer was born of a father who was somewhat of an organist, but who, with his wife, died while John Sebastian was 10 years old. The child was taken in by his elder brother who was a kind man but one who did not believe in music as a career.

"As the boy already knew how to play the organ, this state of affairs was disheartening, and throughout his stay with his brother he resorted to a number of subterfuges to get to his beloved music. He finally went to Hamburg, studied music there, fought a few duels for the honor of the German nation, finally marrying twice and bringing up twenty children.

SENSATIONAL CAREER

"During his musical career he wrote numbers of pieces which will live forever, and which won him the title of 'Bach the Immortal.'

"At one time he was court organist to King Frederick of Prussia, and about that time composed a theme based on the letters of his own name, Bach. H, in German music," Professor Kahl, explained, "is equivalent to our B. natural.

"Toward the end of his eventful career, Bach went blind, probably because of the tremendous strain to which he always subjected his eyes.

"Bach died on July 28 1750. Just before he died, he regained his sight for a few hours, and is said to have completed his last piece of music at this time."

GIVE MUSICAL NUMBERS

After delivering this interesting talk, the group adjourned to the church proper where Professor and Mrs. Kahl and a group of musicians gave a few delightful German numbers. The organ selection "Fugue in D Minor," by Professor Kahl and the G-string air, with soprano obligato, composed by Professor Kahl; "O Israel, fear not, for I have redeemed thee," in which the Professor played the violin, Bernard Hermann the organ, and Mrs. Kahl sang, were the most enjoyable of the many numbers played.

MRS. PENHALLOW ENTERTAINS

Miss Jean Widdifield was the guest of honor at a bridge party given by Mrs. Richard Penhallow at the spacious Aiea Club House last Monday afternoon.

At the end of the afternoon the honored guest was presented with a shower of handkerchiefs.

A ban was recently placed on all dancing at the University of Kansas.

"Mikado" Will Be Given By Normal

"The Mikado" a comic opera written by Gilbert and Sullivan will be presented by the Normal School Glee Club at the Oahu Theatre May 18 and 19 with a matinee on May 19.

The production is the first big undertaking of its kind to be attempted at the Normal School and members are working hard to make this opera a success.

The audience will be favored not only with a great spectacle of Japanese beauty and art but also with selected music furnished by a group of professional players of Honolulu. The Royal Hawaiian orchestra will perform. Many elegant and colorful costumes and priceless fans will be used by members in the cast. The opera, according to Mrs. Edna B. Lawson, director, will be as strictly Japanese as possible. Japanese manners, Japanese airs, and Japanese customs will be upheld by all those in the cast.

The proceeds of "The Mikado" will go toward helping the oral English classes in securing dictaphones and other necessities. Improvements in other departments will also be made.

Support and co-operation from prominent citizens of the Japanese community have made this production possible. A professional Japanese actor has been engaged by the school to give advice and suggestions on stage actions.

Prices for "The Mikado" are 50 cents, 75 cents, and $1.

Two U. Women in Hula Moon

Two lovely girls represented the University in the successful "Hula Moon" which was produced under the direction of Don Blanding by the Junior League last week at the Princess Theatre.

Among the riotously beautiful and gorgeous "Flowers of the Rainbow" were Miss Nina Bowman as the illima and Miss Lellani Rohrig as the white ginger. Miss Bowman had on a close-fitting yellow robe which boasted of a long cluster of yellow flowers which was draped from the right shoulder and caught at the waist on the left where it was allowed to droop into a train. Illima leis binding her loosened hair, completed Miss Bowman's costume.

Miss Lellani Rohrig as the white ginger was appropriately sheathed in white with large white flowers all down one side of her gown. A white picture hat added to the effectiveness and beauty of Miss Rohrig's costumes.

Miss Bowman and Miss Rohrig were two of the forty girls representing the different island and continental flowers, in exotic and exquisite costumes created by Don Blanding.

The whole program was so good that it is hard to pick out an especially attractive number. The charming fish number included a special dance by the shrimp and the devil fish. Among the many laugh provoking numbers were: the boat scene with the lei women and men; Maui, the newsman; the scene at Benson Smith, with Don Blanding as the Japanese chauffeur and Miss Hilda Von Holt as the Japanese maid. The complete program, including the hula girl who steps out of the hula moon, singing and dancing was repeated again yesterday afternoon to meet the enthusiastic demands after the dance performances last week.

J. S. A. Will Elect Officers Saturday At Fuller's Hall

Wakayama and Sato Are Nominated For President

Important business and the election of officers for the coming year will be taken up at the meeting of the Japanese Students' Association to be held at Fuller's Hall, Y. W. C. A. on Saturday, May 12, at 7:30 p. m. At the last meeting of the executive committee, nominations of officers were made, and since, several nominations were received through petitions.

A large number of University students are among the nominees. The University unit of this organization has played an important role in the affairs of the Association. Such men as Baron Y. Goto, former editor of Ka Leo, Kensuke Kawachi and Kazuichi Hirano, both winners of the Berndt contests of the past years, Masaichi Yanagihara, a prominent member of the class of 1924, George Sakamaki, and Shunzo Sakamaki, held important offices in the Association. At present Earl Nishimura, junior at the University, heads the Association.

Francis Sato and Jack Wakayama, both of the University, are nominated for the presidency, which is always being held by University students. Two McKinley students are named for the office of vice-president, Harry Komuro, president of the junior class at McKinley, and Kenji Fujiwara, president of the student body at the same institution.

Oliver Yanaga, an active participant in student affairs, and Miss Mildred Nerio are listed for corresponding secretary. The nominees for the recording secretary are Miss Shizuko Suzuki, Miss Shinayo Harimoto, and Miss Mitsue Tasaki. For treasurer, Thomas Fujinaka and Wallace Sakamoto, both of McKinley, are booked.

The University students are given the responsibility of checking the accounts of the Association with Owen Konishi and Asaturo Uyeda as nominees for auditors. Paul Osumi, member of the Friend Peace Scholarship club, an honorary scholarship club on the campus, and Makoto Nukaga, one of the members of the freshmen championship debating team, will run for the editorship of the Students' Annual. The business end of the students' annual will be handled either by Masao Aizawa or Sanachika Mimura, both of this University.

After the business meeting, a program consisting of music and singing by Matsuno's quartet and refreshment will conclude the evening. The general chairman of the evening is Richard Kaneko and the refreshment committee is composed of Miss Ruth Komuro, Miss Evelyn Fujinaka, Miss Pearl Kawasaki, Miss Asako Kustunal, Miss Toki Yoshizawa, Miss Helen Omori, Miss Clara Kurano, Koichi Harada, Mitsui Kido and Likio Koga.

Moonless Picnic Is Enjoyed By Night Hawkers

Music, Refreshments, Stunts, Lighten Revelers

A moonlight picnic without the moon was wonderfully managed by Edward Kushi, Junior in the College of Applied Science, last Saturday at the Y.W.C.A. Beach House before a group of seventy persons, the majority being from the University. According to the reliable calendar it was only the day after the full moon, but the night was invaded by several fleets of clouds, as Honolulu is now by the American armada.

The music of the night was furnished by the seashore quartet under the direction of Taichi Matsuno, accompanied by the rustling waves of Walkiki. Robert Masuhara, the diminutive miler of the University, turned a sudden playwright at the music of the seashore guitar and ukulele quartet, and produced an exquisite love play which was called the "Play of the Nuts." Although the characters were amateurs, the scene was very carefully chosen by Dean Ishii, the University pitcher, who furnished all the stanzas needed for the act. Earle Okamura furnished the decorations, and Masao Yamada looked after the furniture with John G. Young of Nuanu Y.M.C.A.

Another surprise on the program was the modified "hula moon" dance by cadet Sergeant Minoru Inaba of Company K and music by Kameju Hayakawa. It was dedicated to the girls of the Normal School dormitory, but the dance was enjoyed by all who watched them in their new creation.

Miss Yukie Tsuda sang a delightful little song entitled "Adorable." Several other interesting numbers were included in the evening's program, including a clever recitation by Lincoln Kanai, who claims to be the shadow of the great president, Abraham Lincoln, at noon. Abraham Lincoln was a six-footer, but our Lincoln barely reaches sixty inches, which may be his height of ambition. Kotohi Harada entertained the group with what some people call the modern interpretation of the dance in the dark world.

Refreshments were served by Miss Shizuko Morimoto, Miss Edith Ling, Miss Lydia Moo, and Miss Evelyn Fujinaka. The following students were in charge of the affair: Edward Kushi, general chairman; Kiyoto Tsuhaki; stunts; Masao Yamada, games; Richard Kaneko, music; George Fujii, Edwin Kuniyuki, and Isao Seto, refreshments.

Prexy Gets Letter of Thanks From Kona

President David L. Crawford has received a letter from R. R. Richmond, principal of the Konaewaena High and Grammar schools, expressing his thanks for the kind treatment which the University extended the baseball team of the schools on their visit to Honolulu recently.

"When our Varsity baseball players made their trip to the Big Island, they met the Konaewaena boys in a fast and snappy game. Following is Mr. Richmond's letter: My dear Mr. Crawford:

My school boys recently returned from a trip to Honolulu where they played baseball games with Punahou, Kamehameha and McKinley. In the first game they were successful but the last two were rather disastrous. However, they speak in very glowing terms of the treatment received from the University students. The good times the University boys gave them made them forget all about the defeats in the baseball games. Mr. Yates, who accompanied the boys as coach, and each member of the team have praised the boys of the University very highly. As principal of schools, I want to thank the University students and the University of Hawaii for the kind treatment the boys received.

Very truly,

Prof. C. B. Andrews Writes to Prexy

the best men that they can for teachers, and the prestige of the Institute ought to make it possible for them to get an exceptional quality of men, and yet, everything is not ideal, any more than it is with us. There appears in the college paper more or less pointed criticism of the methods of teaching, most of which however, can be traced back to the fact that there are necessarily some very large classes, and that the methods that might apply to a small class are not applicable.

COURSE IN SOIL MECHANICS
I have written to Professor Keller that I shall have material enough for a course in Soil Mechanics, if he can find a place to put it. This subject is, I think, the most important new development in Civil Engineering of recent years. Dr. Terzaghi was formerly professor at the Robert College at Constantinople; an Austrian, and a very exceptional man; he has practically single-handed put this branch of knowledge on its feet. The application of it is in foundation design, and the design of any structure, such as a retaining wall, which is subject to earth pressure. The older theories were developed for special cases of earth types, which are the exception rather than the rule, and Dr. Terzaghi has attempted to start over again developing new rules, based on physics as applied to soils.

MRS. ANDREWS TALKS ON HAWAII
Mrs. Andrews has been quite busy with a variety of interests; she is today addressing a D. A. R. meeting somewhere south of Boston, on Hawaii; she is becoming quite popular as a speaker on this subject, and everyone seems eager to learn about our islands. She will shortly leave for the Annual D. A. R. Convention at Washington. We expect to leave Boston about the 6th of June; to spend some four weeks at Oberlin, Ohio, then to come West by way of the Great Northern, which will enable us to stop off at Chicago, St. Paul, the Glacier National Park, Seattle and Portland. We expect to bring back with us one of Mrs. Andrews' nieces from California, who will enter as a freshman in the University, and possibly another niece from Ohio. We shall be very glad to get back to our homeland once more. The thermometer stands just now at 86° on the back porch, so we shall probably have a blizzard next week, which may nip off all of the lilac leaves which are just coming out. The winter has not been very cold here, though there was enough of it for me.

Kearns Writes On Haw'n Pineapples

Kenneth Kerns, member of the University alumni who graduated with the class of 1926, is the author of an article appearing in the bulletin of the Experiment Station of the Association of Hawaiian Pineapple Canners entitled "Persistence of Characters in the Smooth Cayenne Pineapple."

The pamphlet contains statistical and graphic charts illustrating the different sections of the subject into which the article has been divided. Some of the topics covered are field data showing the comparison of planting material; correlations; fruit weight; conformation of fruits; effect of vegetative selection on fruit size and conformation; typical Cayenne plant of this study and the application of results to selection.

Research in Zoology

Zoology as a science has accumulated a great store of information very important to the human race, but there are great unexplored areas in this science, waiting for trained research students to push onward.

The attraction of a career in this science is that one deals with matters which are essentially of interest to our present civilization, declares Dr. C. E. McClung of the University of Pennsylvania. The contributions made to human knowledge are now almost exclusively in science. Other civilizations have equalled or excelled us in many lines of endeavor, but in coming to an understanding of the real nature of ourselves and of the universe in which we live, we stand apart. An opportunity to participate in enlarging the bounds of human knowledge and in gaining control over the conditions of human existence must appeal to the imagination of any young man who really has ambition to leave the world better than he found it. The teacher has the additional satisfaction of contributing to the forces that will continue the attack upon Nature's secrets because his students live after him.

Added to the attractiveness attaching to any scientific position the zoologist finds a compelling interest and satisfaction in studying living things and in learning from them secrets which profoundly affect his own existence. It is only necessary here to recall that Darwin, in establishing the theory of evolution, supplied a philosophy which has dominated every phase of human affairs in the last half century. Every year sees additions to our knowledge of life and its processes which make for a better and fuller human existence. The subject of Zoology is so young and fertile that any capable person may hope to make a worthy contribution to it. Because of this he may well forego opportunities more attractive in a worldly way.

Used Lei Problem Solved; U. H. Genius Evolves Idea

By FRED STOCKS

A novel plan, and one which is sure to win the support of all true Scotchmen, not to mention good citizens of Hebrew descent, for the reconditioning of second hand leis, proceeds from which saving to go into the sinking fund for the home for young and mentally deranged journalists, has been originated by the author, who has many more such deeds to his credit.

The idea, which is entirely original, is this—in view of the fact that the only profit made on Lei Day this year was made by the dealers in leis and purveyors of smelling salts, who plied their trade in pairs, the lei dealers accosting Scotchmen with leis, who after hearing the price, would faint (the Scots, not the leis) and be obliged to purchase restoratives wherewith to revive themselves, a scheme whereby the profit and pleasure of Lei Day would not be confined to the lei venders came to the author's mind.

Why could not a company be formed to make the rounds of private persons after midnight of May 1, each year and purchase, for a mere pittance the leis used by the family for the day's celebration?

That everyone would be more than pleased to part with the leis is practically certain.

The author, at a great personal inconvenience, has compiled statistics which prove conclusively exactly what is done with the 13,061 leis used annually by Honolulu people in the celebration of lei day. His results are as follows:

Thrown in the garbage can—8,993.
Given to poor relations—1,848.
Thrown at cats, dogs, and orange vendors—1,063.

Saved to present to Howard D. Case on Squid Day—89.

Donated to beach boys who insist on playing the guitar on the door step—40.

Miscellaneous, such as sent to the mainland with pictures taken on the beach at Waikiki, used as picture frames, worn next day down town in order to give the wearer the appearance of having just arrived in Honolulu—28.

These statistics show that there is a large field for such a business as has been just suggested. The company might be formed from undergraduates, or from graduates, for that matter, as they will have nothing better to do until they stop hunting for a position and are willing to take a job, and the results are sure to be worth the while of any enterprising business man.

Leis thus procured would be reconditioned by the company, and sold next Lei Day or even in between whiles to incoming tourists, who wouldn't know the difference between the old and the new any way.

Of course a business like this would take a certain outlay of capital for some time before the profits became apparent, but the income would finally be great enough to offset this disadvantage.

Of course a comprehensive advertising campaign would be necessary for the successful conduction of the business. The author, who has had considerable experience in advertising, having held down at different times the position of advertising manager on the Nihoa Times, the Midway Journal, the Kahoolawe Ledger, and many others of equal importance, will be glad to assist the new business enterprise as soon as it is started. In fact he has already coined a number of slogans for use in this drive.

Some of these are—"Buy one of our leis once and you will never buy another," "Leis delivered to your home by phone," "Don't let your wife kill herself making leis—let us do the dirty work," and others equally significant.

If this general plan is followed, the writer rests assured that those who enter the business are sure to profit greatly—if not in worldly goods, in experience at least.

Don Blanding, originator of Lei Day, expressed the greatest interest in the novel plan, and gave the writer carte blanche to do anything he pleased about it. His very words were "If you can get anyone to take you up, you're a better man than I am, Gordon Gin."

So let's have a little hearty kokua, folks—the project is for the benefit of everyone and if everyone will give until it hurts there will be one more industry added to those already existing in Hawaii, and posterity will be extremely grateful to the pioneers who had the foresight to start—running.

The Hui Dance

By B. S.

My DEAR, what I really mean to say is that I NEVER really enjoyed a dance so much as the Hui Dance last Friday night at the Oahu Country Club, it was the most HEAVENLY thing I EVER went to. Did YOU go? Well, you certainly missed something, for these affairs are really so EXCLUSIVE, you know, they only invite the more POPULAR co-eds, and really, my dear, I had to turn down SO many invitations that I was really Tired, what I mean is, when Jack finally came around for me. He isn't so hot, but he has a really THRILLING car, one of those with a vanity case and a cocktail shaker attached—and after all that's all that counts, isn't it?

Well anyhow, we FINALLY got there. I had to watch the road for Jack the MAJOR part of the way for he is so CARELESS I really mean, when he takes me out, and quite a number of times he NEARLY hit a swill wagon or something when he was er—watching the sidewalks or something. And isn't that place HEAVENLY, you know, with all those lights and those cute little places out on the grounds where no one can approach for a few MINUTES without you hearing them, and so forth.

I danced quite a few dances with Jack—he is one of those awful dancers you read about in LIFE or JUDGE, you know—always stepping all over your feet till I almost SCREAMED; really he's terrible, but I had to be polite to him, because of convention, my dear. He wanted to sit out a lot of dances, he really did, my dear, but I had to pretend I liked his dancing so much that HADN'T a leg to STAND on.

I managed to ditch him after a HECTIC struggle and I found a really charming Englishman, what I mean thrills ran all the way down my back and up again. I think these Englishmen are SO DIFFERENT from the general run of men, they are so SOPHISTICATED, you know. He is a millionaire, and his father is raising cane somewhere in Samoa at present. He says he is looking for some charming little unsophisticated girl to share his mansion in the Berkshires or somewhere and to take his mind off the sordidness of life. He is SO different, what I really mean is.

Well, he said he really thought I was CHARMING, you know, and he dances in a really FASCINATING way, so slick and GRACEFUL—not like these really ROUGH persons you generally have to put up with who have a step all their own and try to make you FOLLOW them—and we sat out quite a lot of dances, which was really more enjoyable in the long run, don't you think? Well, we had quite a long talk, when all of a SUDDEN, out of a blue sky, I might say, Jack came brushing into our nook and brutally punched Percival—his name is Percival van Dodder, such an aristocratic name, he is half Scotch, he says—on the nose. Percy held his temper like a gentleman, and although he could probably have WHIPPED Jack to a FRAZZLE even if he is only half Jack's size, he just turned his back on him, which is what a true GENTLEMAN with really blue blood in his veins would have done, what I really mean is.

Of course I refused to go home with Jack after THAT, my dear, which I kind of REGRETTED, for Jack really has a really RIPPING car, you know, and I went home after the very enjoyable dance with Percy. He was awfully annoyed—not on account of the EPISODE with Jack, but because his chauffeur ACTUALLY failed

U. H. Catalog Will Be Ready for Sale

Copies of the new 1928-29 catalogue of the University will be ready for distribution in a few days, according to information from President David L. Crawford's office. They will sell for 20 cents each.

The catalogues will give the courses of study for the next academic year, some of which are new and of considerable interest. A few more new courses will probably be announced by a special bulletin at the beginning of the next semester in September. Complete student lists for the current year are included in the catalogues, together with statistical data concerning registration.

A larger edition is being printed this year to allow for wider distribution among the students of the University. Heretofore, the practice has been to place a number of copies of the catalog at various points where students could use them, as in the library, Hawaii hall and several other places, but not to give out copies generally to students. The reason for this was economy of public funds for the annual catalog is a rather expensive publication and to give a copy free to every student would mean a large expenditure of university money.

GREATER MCKINLEY WEEK WILL BE OBSERVED

A Greater McKinley Week, to occupy the days between May 14 and May 18, is announced by the McKinley Alumni. This Greater McKinley Week is to be held annually if possible, and is for the purpose of stimulating interest in McKinley High School and to keep together the graduates of the school, members of the club announce.

Alumni Night will be held on the evening of May 14 to start the ball rolling. Tickets for this affair at 75 cents each are obtainable from Attorney Charles Dwight, Alfred Vierra, class of '23, and Mrs. Herbert Keppeler, teacher at McKinley High School.

to call for him, which is the first time that Jeeves, his chauffeur, has ever done a thing like that, he says.

Well, we were walking along when some sophomore in a most WRETCHED Ford, of all things, came along and picked us up. Percy was really good about it, used to riding in Rolls-Royces and Hispano-Sulzas as he is, he never made a NOISE of complaint. He said good-bye in a way no unsophisticated girl could ever forget. What I really mean is, I couldn't SLEEP for an hour, his memory lingered so long, my dear.

But the BLOW I received next morning—the postman brought me a letter—it was on such ARISTOCRATIC notepaper—yes it was from Percy, saying he was called away on business and might never come back but that he hoped that I would always keep a spot for him in my heart, and a lot of endearing things that a young girl just ADORES.

Jack came around and apologized—I forgave him after a HECTIC struggle, for after all he HAS a peach of a car, and all is again rosy. OH, and the funniest thing happened, I was walking past a little butcher shop the other day and I saw a man behind the counter who was the IMAGE of Percy! The similarity was really so great, my dear, that you could have knocked me down with a feather, but he kind of ducked out of sight when he saw me—Isn't it funny, how many people in the world resemble persons you know, what I mean to say is!

Paul Osumi Will Head Friend Peace Club

Paul Osumi, who won the Friend Peace Scholarship in 1926 and now a sophomore in the University, has been elected president of the Friend Peace Club for next year at the meeting held at the Nuuanu Y. M. C. A.

Misayo Ishizaki, also a winner of the Friend Peace Scholarship in 1926, was elected secretary-treasurer for the coming year. She was the secretary of the club last year and being well qualified for this office she was again conferred the honor by unanimous vote. Miss Ishizaki was one of the best students from the McKinley High School and was the valedictorian of her class. She is an honor student in her class in this University.

The main object of the team on its tour is not so much to win debates and oratorical contests as to create better understanding between the Orient and the Occident. Much of their time will be occupied in making talks to students and civic organizations in Japan, China, and the Philippines.

In Tokyo the team will compete in an oratorical contest on the general subject of Japanese-American relations. The three men who oppose the University debaters will be selected from the 17 universities of Tokyo. In Kyoto the Varsity team will meet in a debate two graduates from the University of Hawaii, George and Shunzo Sakamaki, and another island boy, Oshima. The two teams will argue the relative merits and demerits of Prohibition as it is in effect in the United States. After visiting many other important cities in Japan, the team will go to China, where a debate has been tentatively arranged, and where many informal addresses will be given. Shanghai, Nanking, Canton, and Hongkong will be visited in China, after which the three debaters will go to Manila, where a debate with Santos Tomos University has been arranged. The subject of this debate will be "Asia for the Asiatics," and the local trio will take the negative of the proposition.

From Manila the team will go back through China, to Japan, and then sail for Honolulu. Walter Mihata plans to stay over in Japan a few weeks, but the other two members expect to arrive back in Honolulu about the middle of August.

Walter Mihata is a senior, and will be graduated with the class of '28. Stowell Wright, originally of the class of '28, was out of school for one year, so is now registered as a junior, while Ah Ho Chun is a sophomore. All three have good scholastic records, and have taken part in many University activities.
